About the Building

Montgomery Ward & Co. commissioned architect J.W.Bass to draw up the designs for this majestic tribute to the aspirations of commerce lighting the way to progress with the vision coming to fruition in 1929. Ward's remained until the early 1970's leaving the structure longing for new life.

That came in the form of an antique mall for many years before Bill Fraley and his family infused new life into it for 20 years it served the community as a furniture store known for quality products and excellent service.

When retirement loomed, a fortuitous meeting in 2022 came between the Fraley's and Carl and Jessica Marcusen and the building was reborn as a hub for commerce to not just one but many aspiring entrepreneurs who were set back in their dreams by the events of 2020.

Currently home to a dozen local businesses, Commerce Mall welcomes you to visit this magnificent structure that is filled with so many opportunities for your family to explore and make memories at.

About Harrison

Harrison, Arkansas, was founded in 1869 and is located in the Ozark Mountains in Boone County. The town was named after L. LaRue Harrison, a Union officer and surveyor who helped lay out the town. Harrison grew as a trading post and transportation hub due to its position near major roads and rail lines.

Today it still serves as a central shopping, dining and entertainment hub for the surrounding towns and counties. It has also become a favorite for travels by car or motorcycle who yearn for the beauty of the hills and the Buffalo National River.
